Call for Proposals: COVID-19 Ethics and Humanities Grant

Purpose
The Center for Bioethics and Medical Humanities is offering funding to support projects related to COVID-19 and bioethics/medical humanities. Both research projects and educational/engagement programming are eligible. The aim is to ensure that bioethics and medical humanities play a role in conversations related to the evolving COVID-19 situation, in our community and potentially beyond.

Award Limit
Awards up to $5,000.00 (total costs) will be granted.

Eligibility
Applicants must be one of the following:
- A Northwestern Univ. Feinberg School of Medicine medical student, graduate student, resident, or fellow*
- An employee of Northwestern Memorial Hospital, Shirley Ryan AbilityLab, or Lurie Children’s Hospital*
- A Northwestern University Feinberg School of Medicine faculty member
*All non-faculty should identify a Northwestern University faculty mentor with whom to collaborate.

Requirements
- Awardees must provide a progress report 6 months after receiving the award and upon completion of the project (12 months after receiving the award), which describes the outcomes of the project and details how the funding was used.
- Awardees must acknowledge funding from the Center for Bioethics and Medical Humanities in presentations and publications.
- Awardees must agree to present information about their funded projects at one of the Center for Bioethics and Medical Humanities events (e.g. conferences or seminars)

Application Deadline: Monday, April 6, 2020 at 5pm

Application
Applications should not exceed 5 pages and should include the following:
- A completed Cover Page (attached; 1 page)
- A proposal narrative with the following headings (up to 3 pages):
  - Specific Aims
  - Background and Significance
  - Approach
  - Next Steps
